STATE TREASURER RAMSAY'S DEFALCATION.

Illinois' Treasury Was Looked Upon as a Convenient Family Purse.

When the High State Officials Needed Money for Private Use They Took It.

Gov. Altgeld Appointed the Defaulter's Son and Thus Prevented Public Scandal.

The Chicago Bankers Were Also Bondsmen for Young Ramsay, But They Put in Their Own Man to Look After the Funds—Seiter Threatens to Make Further Sensational Disclosures—How the Carlyle Bank Was Conducted.

CARLYLE, Ill., Feb. 12.—One of the most astounding features of the Ramsay defalcation is the fact that Gov. Altgeld appointed Elijah N. Ramsay to succeed his father as State Treasurer the same day that the shortage in the Treasury was made known to him. There are various rumors of a very sensational nature about here as to why Gov. Altgeld did this. Young Ramsay, who has been in Springfield for several days, was expected by his mother to return home last night, but he did not come, and this morning a telegram was received from him that he had been detained by business. In his absence Lawyer M. P. Murray, who was a close and lifelong friend of the dead Treasurer, and is now aiding the family in their efforts to straighten out the tangled affairs of the estate, told the Post-Dispatch correspondent the story of how the defalcation of Ramsay was first made known to Gov. Altgeld and subsequently to the bondsmen. The dead Treasurer died on Sunday morning, Nov. 11, and he was buried with great pomp and ostentation on the following Tuesday. Gov. Altgeld came to the stricken family as son and received news of Ramsay's death, and remained until after the funeral. Others who came on a special train to be present at the last solemn ceremony were Secretary of State Hinrichsen, Attorney-General Maloney, Adj.-Gen. Orendorff, State Auditor Gore and at least 100 more State officials, members of the Legislature, judges and men of political prominence in both parties. The day of the funeral all of the business houses in Carlyle were closed and draped in mourning. The ceremony over, the officials returned to Springfield the same evening, and young Elijah Ramsay, who was chief clerk in his father's office, went with them. Mr. Murray says that while on his death bed Ramsay called his family about him and told them that when he was gone he would like to have them consult with his old friend and legal adviser, Murray, about all matters pertaining to business, and to do nothing toward adjusting the estate without first advising him. Murray at that time knew that Ramsay was in desperate financial straits, though he says he did not know that Ramsay had misappropriated the funds of the State. What he knew was that Ramsay had some years before lost a large amount of money in unfortunate deals in corn and wheat, and that he was staggering under a heavy indebtedness. Ramsay having at various times borrowed large sums of money on which he was paying as high as 8 per cent interest.

RAMSAY'S HOME.

The day after the funeral party returned to Springfield young Ramsay telegraphed Murray to come to him on the first train. Murray started the same night and when he reached Springfield the next morning he was met by the dead treasurer's son and together they went straight to the office of the State Treasurer. Here young Ramsay confessed to his father's friend and counsellor that there was a shortage in the State funds of almost $500,000. Murray does not say whether or not Ramsay did not warrant him in conducting in this or any other state matter, but he says that Ramsay was in a desperate financial straits, though he says he did not know that Ramsay had misappropriated the funds of the State. What he knew was that Ramsay had some years before lost a large amount of money in unfortunate deals in corn and wheat, and that he was staggering under a heavy indebtedness. Ramsay having at various times borrowed large sums of money on which he was paying as high as 8 per cent interest.

RAMSAY'S DEBTS.

Ramsay, Dr. Murray says, was a firm believer in real estate, and paid exorbitant prices for Illinois and Kansas farming lands, and would not sell even when values were at their highest. He cites a number of instances, in some of which he was financially interested, in which his sums were lost for no other reason than that Ramsay would not sell when it had reached its top notch

THEIR DEAD.

Poverty's Tribute to the Medical Charnel Houses.

The Anatomical Board Claims All the Pauper Dead.

BODIES OF LITTLE CHILDREN CARTED TO THE DISSECTING ROOM.

Health Commissioner Homan Explains the Law on the Subject—The Poor Must Bury Their Own Dead—A Mother's Sad Story.

Ever since the year 1833 there has existed in the city of St. Louis a burial place for the city's poor and there for years they have been buried. There never was any question asked as to whether they were ever to be disinterred or not, or whether any relative or friend would hereafter reimburse the city for the money expended. But now all this has been changed and the poor will hereafter be turned over, almost without exception, to the Anatomical Board for use as subjects in the medical colleges. The only exception will be where friends state that in the near future they will disinter the body and bury it on private ground. The law providing for this has been in force a number of years, but has never been vigorously enforced until the present time. When questions on the subject of the Anatomical Board came up at the Health Commissioner Homan at first said never a word, but took from his place on the board a copy of the Revised Statutes of Missouri, and opening it, said: "You will see by this that the bodies of all persons who are required to be buried at public expense shall be turned over to the Anatomical Board. The general impression has existed in the minds of the public that it was only the unclaimed dead which should be thus disposed of. You see, though, that the law is plain, and says all dead who are to be cared for at the public expense. The state will not know what the relatives of the deceased of the disposition to be made of the body, and this we will do more than that. Not because the law provides for it, but because of public sentiment. What a relative of the dead would like to have the body temporarily buried we will place in the public's field until such time as it can be disinterred, except in cases where disinterment is not allowed."

THE BOARD'S NEW ORDER.

In this respect though the Health Commissioner is evidently somewhat mistaken, as never before have so many persons been turned over to the Anatomical Board as at present, and never did the order come directly from the board to turn over all bodies which are to be buried at the city's expense. The order is characterized by a number of the attaches of the Health Department as barbarous. The majority of the bodies buried at the city's expense, except in police cases, are those of children; the children of people who really do not know what the bodies of their relatives are to be given to the Anatomical Board.

A MOTHER'S GRIEF.

The last of the bodies to be gathered up for the Anatomical Board was that of a young woman, the daughter of a poor man, who was found dead in the street. The mother's illness and the subsequent illness and death of the child has used up what little money he had, and he was consequently obliged to ask the city to bury the babe. The mother was just able to about, and as the father was looking for employment in the afternoon, and she went home and prepared for burial. The authorities called for it, and taking it a last good-bye, she let it go.

When a reporter for the Post-Dispatch called at the house of the family with whom Mr. and Mrs. Steward were living just the evening before, and the mother was sitting at the table, and her baby she said:

"Did they tell you they would bury it?"

"Yes, they told me they would turn it over to the Anatomical Board."

"You didn't know then that your baby would be turned over to the Anatomical Board?"

"I don't understand you," said Mrs. Steward. "They don't need to do that. I had a doctor and he knows what baby died of."

The reporter explained the proposition to be made of the body, and the poor mother burst out:

"No! no! They shall not cut up my baby. Oh, they couldn't do that! They have no right to do that; just because we haven't money to pay for the burial. Oh, that's horrible, and she covered her face with her hands and burst into tears."

The mother was greatly affected. He said he had not the money to bury the child, and so knew that the body would be turned over to the Anatomical Board. He said he thought it was barbarous, but that he would not object to the Anatomical Board seeing what could be done. The mother continued her sobbing and was still crying as though her heart would break when the reporter left.

What is true of the Steward family is true of many of the others. Of course some of the children given to the city are the little who have no father, and they are usually turned over to the undertaker with very little regret.

Some of the attaches of the Health Department, whose names are withheld for obvious reasons, say that the reason why the order has gone into effect so strenuously is that the demands of the Anatomical Board are more pressing than before. There are so many medical colleges now in the city that it takes a great number of subjects to supply them. It is said, in urgent cases, the bodies are all being turned over to the board because it is too much trouble to dig graves in the frozen ground.

ITALIANS EAT HORSES.

Two Animals Killed by the Cars Are Eagerly Devoured.

SPRING VALLEY, Ill., Feb. 12.—This morning two horses were killed on the Rock Island Railroad, a short distance from the depot. Immediately after the accident a crowd of hungry Italians and taken away to be eaten. Inside ten minutes only the skeletons remained.

SURRENDERED.

Ports and Ships at Wei-Hai-Wei in Possession of Japan.

YOKOHAMA, Feb. 12.—It is officially announced that Capt. Nuro of the Japanese squadron operating at Wei-Hai-Wei, reports that on the 11th one of the enemy's gunboats approached the Japanese fleet flying a white flag. When communication was had with her it was ascertained that she brought a message from Admiral Ting of the Chinese navy, offering to surrender Wei-Hai-Wei and its vessels providing that the lives of the soldiers, crews and foreigners were secured. The surrender was arranged and the Japanese came into full possession of Wei-Hai-Wei.

KILLED AND WOUNDED.

YOKOHAMA, Feb. 12.—The commander of the Second Japanese army in an official report says that 1,000 bodies before the Wei-Hai-Wei says its losses from the 24th of January to the 1st of February were 33 killed, including five officers and 29 soldiers, including Gen. Otera and three officers. During the same period 700 of the enemy were killed.

BADLY CRUSHED.

August F. Berning Injured by a Union Line Car.

The record of street car accidents was added to early this morning by the Union Line, and young August F. Berning, of 428 De Solo avenue, was almost killed. He was just starting down town at 8:30 o'clock, when the accident occurred, and as a result he will be laid up for some time. The mishap took place at the corner of Levee and Franklin avenues, where the cars make a turn, and as the place is down grade for the east-bound cars it is exceedingly dangerous. It is especially so in snowy weather, for the brakes are slow when Berning was hurt, but the car continued to roll down the slippery rails. Berning had attempted to board the motor car of the train as it dashed by him, but missed his hold and fell. The trailer car struck him on his arm and cut his body. The young fellow was then dragged thirty feet, and the bloody marks in the snow show where his body was pulled along. It was a miracle that his life was not crushed out.

The car was finally stopped and the boy was released, but it was necessary to convey him to his home in an ambulance. Had Berning been able to jump for the trailer he would only have been thrown in the street. The car was found guilty and being dragged by the juggernaut, but the spirit of economy is abroad in the Union Line, and the rear gates of the trailer are kept closed.

CAUSED HIS RUIN.

Tom Goabout's Ambition to Be Something Above a Dog Thief.

The sealed verdict returned by the jury in the case of Tom Goabout, charged with burglary and larceny, was opened in the Criminal Court yesterday afternoon. Goabout was charged with stealing $15 worth of dressed meat from the butcher shop of Conrad Breitweiser at 433 Clayton road. This ends Tom's career for the present. He was noted for his partiality for his neighbor's chickens and dogs. He was the most expert dog thief known to the police. He could approach the most vicious animal, and in a short time he could take the dog up in his arms and carry him off. Tom has been very fortunate heretofore, never receiving a greater punishment than a term in the work-house. The present case is his first deviation from his legitimate field of chicken and dog stealing, and it has resulted most disastrously for him.

THE WEATHER.

Fair, Followed by Snow—Temperature Will Be Stationary.

Weather forecast for St. Louis and vicinity—Fair Wednesday, followed by snow commencing Wednesday night or Thursday morning; stationary temperature.

For Illinois—Fair to-night; slightly colder in south; Thursday fair and slightly colder.

For Missouri—Fair to-night; slightly colder in southeast portion; Thursday fair and slightly colder.

Light snows have continued generally east of Rocky Mountain, except in the Southwest and the Tennessee area, have changed but little except in the South, where they have been more frequent. Present weather is again reported from the barometer is highest in Alberta and the extreme Southwest, and it will probably be lowest on the New England coast. A disturbance appears to be developing in the cause snow in this vicinity during the next thirty-six hours.

Oklahoma, Indian Territory and Arkansas Fair; slightly warmer Thursday afternoon; variable winds.

BY MORPHINE.

John S. Owen Ended His Life at the Hotel Moser.

Wrote His Parents of His Intention to End His Life.

HE HINTS AT THE RUIN OF A GIRL AS THE CAUSE.

The Suicide Was Not Known Until the Young Man's Mother and Sister Called at the Hotel in Response to His Note—The Letters.

John S. Owen, a young artist, apparently about 20 years old, was found dead in bed in his room at the Hotel Moser about 11:30 a. m. Death is supposed to have been caused by a dose of morphine taken by the young man with suicidal intent. An eight-ounce vial which still contained a small quantity of the deadly drug was found on a table in the room. The deceased came to the hotel about 6 o'clock last evening and registered as "John S. Owen, 4785 Cottage avenue, City." On being asked by Clerk Hestle if he wished to retire to a room at once he replied, "Just as soon as I have addressed a couple of envelopes." He then took the envelopes from his pocket, addressed them, and put them back in his pocket. He then told the clerk he was ready to be shown to his room.

He was at once conducted thither by a porter, after which nothing more was seen of him until his dead body was found in his room.

HIS MOTHER AND SISTER CALLED.

About 11:30 this morning a lady and gentleman called at the hotel and inquired if John S. Owen was stopping there. Upon being informed that he was, they asked to be shown to his room, saying they were the young man's mother and sister. Their request was complied with, but the door was locked and no response was given to their repeated rapping. They at once returned to the office and informed Manager R. E. Whitson of the result of their visit to the room.

He, together with one of the porters, at once repaired to the room and gained an entrance to it through a window which opened into a hallway. Owen was found lying dead in the bed clad in his under-clothes. The body was still warm, which indicated that death had ensued only a short time previous.

The brother and sister upon being notified of what had taken place, were convinced that their brother had committed suicide, and they had not altogether surprised, as they had received a communication by mail from the deceased, which hinted at suicide and saying that he would be found at the Hotel Moser. Soon after the discovery was made the young man's father, who was in the city, appeared. He appeared to be heart-broken from the untimely end of his son. None of the members of the family could assign any cause that could have led to his having been out of employment for some time.

Another unfortunate victim, whose story betrays a girl, which may have led him to take his own life.

The letters which Owen left were as follows:

To the Hotel Clerk: I wish to ask you for any trouble this may make you. Please keep this from the newspapers. My family's sake.

My father, Mr. J. Owen, 4785 Cottage avenue, and Mr. Lynch (undertaker). Be careful in notifying my parents.

HIS LETTER TO HIS FAMILY.

This letter was written first, the second was to his family and was never finished. It is sweet to have let me live and know what the love of friends and family is. It is sweet to have let me live and know what the love of friends and family is. It is sweet to have let me live and know what the love of friends and family is.

Simon Oltison, a pawnbroker, told of leading Harry into the three diamond ring that have figured in the testimony. While the transaction was being concluded Harry had "flashed a roll," the amount of money in which Oltison could not determine. Harry often came to him for "lucky money" to use as a stake in gambling.

Mrs. Emma Goodale, a trance medium, doing business under the cognomen of Miss Peterson, was an interesting witness. She had come to her alone and asked her to tell Miss Gling when that lady should call that she would win at gambling. She said she knew what she said or did while in her trances. She replied that she did not. He proceeded to ask some other questions about the science of clairvoyance, but they were shut out by the State's objections. She denied being acquainted with Adry, but knew the father of the boys.

HE IS NOT MAD.

Adry Hayward's Sanity Seems Established.

Part of His Story Corroborated by a Hackman.

VALLAIRE TESTIFIES HOW HARRY APPROACHED HIM.

This Evidence Goes to the Jury, Despite Mr. Erwin's Objections, and Is Regarded as a Knock-Out Blow by the State.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Feb. 12.—The State in winding up its case of murder against Harry Hayward to-day delivered a body blow which staggered the defense. The first witness introduced this morning was none other than Peter Vallaire, the hackman of whom Harry had spoken to Adry as being willing to assist in the proposed crime. Vallaire's testimony was most damaging to the defense, as it corroborated in a striking way one portion of Adry Hayward's remarkable story, and thus rendered thoroughly untenable the defense's pet theory as to Adry's sanity. Vallaire testified that Harry Hayward had approached him with questions as to whether he had ever "done anything," and if so, whether his conscience had bothered him. Harry had later asked Vallaire whether he would drive a hack into Lake Calhoun and let the occupant draw for a sum of money.

dealer, threw some light on Harry Hayward's gambling operations in Minneapolis and Chicago. On Nov. 1, Harry had met him on the street and, complaining that the limit was too low in the Minneapolis gambling houses, proposed a trip to Chicago, where it was higher. Harry agreed to go if Hayward would furnish the transportation. He was in Chicago, and he got his tickets. When they arrived in Chicago they found everything was shut up. Harry intended to return the next day, but missed his train, and came on the second day. He found Harry on the train. They talked of Monte Carlo and other gambling topics, and then Harry had shown him a large package of money in his coat pocket, just a flash of it. Harry said he would not let it go. Harry was a very lucky player, he said, and sometimes the gambling houses had to reduce his limit. He had won as much as $200 at a sitting. Mr. Erwin asked him how much Harry had won in the past year, but further evidence in this direction was shut off by objections. The principal object of Garrity's testimony was to show that Harry returned from Chicago Nov. 6, and as Adry had testified that he brought back Miss Gling's money with him, after telegraphing her that it had all been lost,

Director Brady Fails to Carry His Point-Reports of Committees.

At the meeting of the School Board Tuesday evening the Rules Committee recommended that the meetings of the Teachers Committee be public, with the reservation that a majority of the Teachers Committee may at any time declare the session "executive." The exception caused Mr. Brady to make an attack on the standing proceedings. The report was adopted.

tion of Miss Madeline Lasar from second to first assistant at the Madison School be referred back to the Teachers Committee, because the change was made at Monday's meeting in his absence. His motion was rejected, because the Madison had more than enough money to pay its bills. The motion was also lost, and the report of the Teachers Committee was approved.

Director Ray Hopkins and his wife, between Music Supervisor Hodgdon and his assistant, Mrs. Carlin, up by moving to reconsider the action taken at the last meeting, present assignment of music teachers were made. He severely criticised the official conduct of Mr. Hodgdon. The motion was lost.

Mr. Dieckman's motion to make the Peninsula first-class school as honor to Miss Bertha E. Bacon, who has been obliged to retire after thirty-five years' service, was lost, as it was a motion to reconsider a previous action which carried a two-thirds majority. An appropriation of $2,628 to purchase a lot 176 feet front on Nebraska avenue and 100 feet wide, near the street, for a school site, was made. The owner is Mr. F. J. Karleskind. The sum of $19,000 was appropriated for the schools. Secretary Player reported that the appropriations for the current fiscal year are $125,000 less $215,415.91, leaving $559,583.99 to be spent.

ST. LOUIS BROWNIES

First Performance to Be Given at Entertainment Hall.

IT WILL BE FOR THE BENEFIT OF THE HYPER PARK CHURCH.

Descriptions of the Tableau-Cast of the Characters—Some Picturesque Effects—Julius Caesar Simonet, the Boy Soprano, to Be the Soloist.

The brownies and fairies have been in training for weeks for the entertainment to be given Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings and Saturday afternoon of this week at Entertainment Hall. The cast is made up entirely of home talent, and no pains have been spared to make the presentation complete and artistic. Prince Alderbaron, the Brownie leader, will be supported by Cholly Boutonniere, the boy soprano, and Maj. Telford, Patrolman Mowen, Uncle Sam, Wah Sing, Chauncey Quoter, Dennis O'Rourke from Killarney, and many other unique characters. Queen Flora, with Aesthetica, Toddlekins and Tippytoes and the fairy host will give an exhibition of the customs of fairyland, while the Beetle, the Wasp, and the Hornet, the leaders of the enemy, will wage war against them. Tutti and Frutti, with the bear and the organ, will appear and perform, and the Baby Minuet will form a conspicuous feature of the program. Julius Caesar Simonet will sing a solo and add much to the pleasure of the occasion. This immense cast of characters will be produced under the most favorable scenic effects, and many specialties will be introduced, making this the most charming entertainment of the season. The cast is by Palmer Cox and music by Malcolm Douglas. And the costumes were designed by Palmer Cox.

The play opens with a beautiful tableau.

These quaint, mystic characters have become household favorites throughout the world—translations of their wondrous doings have charmed readers of German.

French, Italian and other languages—and it is hardly possible to over-estimate the kindly feelings that everywhere exist for these happy creations of Palmer Cox. Millions of little ones wait longingly for each exploit of the Brownie Band, and their intense interest in these funny adventures is liberally shared by the grown people. In the construction of this production the author has naturally introduced all the well-known favorites, but their experiences, bright sayings and actions are entirely new, most happily presenting the peculiar

For two years and a half the apple of Cyrus Guest's eye has been pretty Carrie Rieda. She has steadily visited her at her home, 106 Brooklyn street all this time, wooed her with all the ardor of his nature and finally won her promise to be his wife. But with that bashfulness which has ever been an added charm to lovers in the eyes of the world, the couple concealed their desire to be one from the old folks.

These tales the matter over and over again, and when they decided to do just what so many other lovers have done—go away and get married without any one else knowing anything about it, not even the girl's mother. So yesterday morning Guest called at the house. Carrie told her mother that instead of going to work she was going over to visit an aunt near by, and the mother, unsuspecting, gave her consent.

MARRY TO-NIGHT.

Wedding of Ex-Judge Madill and Miss Elizabeth L. McMillan.

Ex-Judge George A. Madill, President of the Union Trust Co., and Miss Elizabeth L. McMillan will be quietly married this evening at the residence of the bride's sister, Mrs. George W. Allen, wife of the ex-Mayor, No. 6728 Cates avenue. There will be no attendants and none but the immediate family will be present. In fact, although the announcement was published some time ago that the distinguished jurist had tired of life as a widower and was to marry Miss McMillan, even their most intimate friends did not know that to-day was the date the couple had decided upon for their wedding.

The bride is a tall, willowy and strikingly handsome young woman in the neighborhood of 25 years of age. Her father, who was an Episcopal clergyman at Pittsburgh, Pa., has been dead for several years, and the young lady and her mother have spent considerable time in travel abroad. Although she has never made this city her home, the young lady is quite well known here, having frequently visited her sister.

LOVE'S DREAM.

A North St. Louis Romance, to Culminate in Matrimony.

For two years and a half the apple of Cyrus Guest's eye has been pretty Carrie Rieda. She has steadily visited her at her home, 106 Brooklyn street all this time, wooed her with all the ardor of his nature and finally won her promise to be his wife. But with that bashfulness which has ever been an added charm to lovers in the eyes of the world, the couple concealed their desire to be one from the old folks.

These tales the matter over and over again, and when they decided to do just what so many other lovers have done—go away and get married without any one else knowing anything about it, not even the girl's mother. So yesterday morning Guest called at the house. Carrie told her mother that instead of going to work she was going over to visit an aunt near by, and the mother, unsuspecting, gave her consent.

Instead of going to see the aunt, however, the two young people took the couple to Clayton and applied for a license. But Guest was such a young-looking chap and the girl so small, and also youthful that the hard-hearted recorder, Lewis' office, No. 10, 1015 North Third street, refused to issue the license. They must have their parents with them. Carrie shook her short golden curls about her pretty face angrily and insisted that she was 20 years old, but in vain. They could not get the license.

There was then nothing left to do but go back home, so the couple went, and confessed to the father and mother where they had been all day and what they had been trying to do.

"We want to get married and we want you to go with us," said Guest, throwing himself on the father's mercy.

"Why, my boy, said the old gentleman, who is a Presbyterian and a temperance man, 'if you had come to me this morning I would gladly have gone with you. You tried to fool the old folks, eh?'"

And then he laughed heartily, accusing his wife of complicity in the conspiracy to hoodwink him; but this she denied.

So despite bashfulness and the hard-hearted marriage license clerk, the wedding is to take place, and not in secret either by a 'squire, but at home. The event is to take place next Tuesday and the whole neighborhood is to be asked in to help celebrate it.

Cyrus Guest is 21 years old and is employed as a printer on an afternoon paper.

KNIGHTS OF INDUSTRY.

OPENING PROCEEDINGS OF THE SEVENTH ANNUAL CONVENTION.

The seventh annual meeting of the Grand Lodge, Knights and Ladies of Industry, was held Wednesday evening in the hall at 418 Morgan street. The Credentials Committee met Tuesday morning and inspected the credentials of thirty delegates, who are ready for the conference. It is believed that the convention will be on hand to-night. The order has about 100 members in St. Louis. Most of its strength is confined to the States of Missouri and Illinois. Williams is Grand President and H. W. Williams is Grand Secretary of the order, which was organized here seven years ago.

A WELL-KEPT HAND.

MAY BE ACQUIRED BY ANY ONE WHO FOLLOWS THESE DIRECTIONS.

From Vogue.

A beautiful hand is not always possible to acquire, but a thoroughly well kept one may be had by following a few simple and by even simpler measures than those recommended. To begin with, the hands should always be washed in very hot water, or, better yet, in warm oatmeal water. In the water add a few drops of fluke of benzoin in the water and rub the hands with a soft towel. When the hands are thoroughly clean, wash them in clean, warm water into which a few drops of lemon juice have been added. Then dry the hands on a soft towel, and immediately rub them with the following mixture: Take a small quantity of pure lemon juice and one part rosewater. This can be prepared either for immediate use or kept in a bottle for use for several days at a time.

Twice a week the nails may be rubbed with this mixture. ## FIRE BY THE FIREMEN.

Several Fighters of Flames Charged With Incendiarism.

YPSILANTI, Mich., Feb. 13.—Samuel Graham, Captain of Hose Co. No. 2, was arrested this morning, charged with incendiarism. For the past eight months fire destroying vacant houses and out-buildings, have been traced to the east side, and the fact that Capt. Graham's company was always ready to respond caused some suspicion. The police have gradually followed up. As a result, Charles M. Walker, a former inmate of the Fire Department, was taken into custody last night, and made a full confession, implicating Capt. Graham and Fireman Archie Hines.

The mysterious fires ceased several weeks ago, when the department was reorganized. Graham became the recipient of a monthly salary, and the system of paying firemen by the hour for work performed was abolished.

IOWA MOLT LIQUOR LAW.

PECULIAR CASE THAT ENDS IN THE DEALER'S FAVOR.

PEORIA, Ill., Feb. 13.—A peculiar case in connection with the Iowa malt liquor law was decided here this morning. Arthur Bauer, a wholesale liquor dealer here, has been selling goods to one Jones of Keokuk. Jones refused to pay, and when Bauer sued him at Keokuk, the court there ruled in favor of the dealer, who is now suing Jones here. The Iowa courts gave Jones judgment for over $800 that he had paid Bauer, and a quitclaim to the goods. The matter was taken as a test case and a number of Iowa lawyers were here arguing it yesterday. The state had intervened. The jury returned a verdict for Bauer and gave him $400 damages. The case will be appealed.

CAPITAL GOSSIP.

Items of General Interest Gathered by Washington Correspondents.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 13.—J. S. Clark, member of the Republican National Committee for Iowa, who is at present in this city, says he is in favor of an earlier date than usual for holding the Republican National Convention of 1924. He thinks the best time for the convention will be the best time for the year to name the candidate for the next President of the United States.

First Assistant Postmaster-General Jones has issued a circular to postmasters after a letter carrier who is a member of the local Board of Examiners shall receive full pay for extra duty. Jones says that other members of the board in conducting a civil service examination, and the substitute for the regular carrier, should be paid at the rate of the compensation of the letter carrier. The orders of this office, fixing and defining the duties of letter carriers shall not affect a letter carrier on the days he is actually employed as a substitute for a regular carrier.

FOR $10,000 DAMAGES.

Mr. George D. Barnard's Prejudice as a Juror.

The damage suit of Maggie A. Shealey against the Lindell and Suburban Realty companies for alleged injuries received on Feb. 12, 1924, at the collision between cars of the two companies, was put on trial in Judge Klein's court. The plaintiff asked for $10,000 damages. She stated that she was thrown against a heating stove in the Suburban car, getting her knee strained and bruised, her ankle sprained and broken, her back and spine wrenched and twisted, her head bruised and cut, and sustaining severe internal injuries. As a result she says she is permanently injured in her nervous system, and that she suffered much mental and physical pain.

The southbound Lindell coach struck the west-bound Suburban coach and threw it over on its side. The plaintiff charges that the Suburban was careless in not having a lookout at the crossing and that the Lindell road was careless in not having its cars equipped with efficient brakes.

George D. Barnard was one of the jury panel sworn in. Among other things he was asked by Attorney T. P. Rowe, who is representing the defendant, to give his opinion as to whether or not the plaintiff was injured. "I think I have," Mr. Barnard replied. "I have been asked a little myself."

Judge Klein told Mr. Barnard that people are as much entitled to protection for their lives and persons as for their property rights, and asked him if he would be less inclined to do injustice to the plaintiff than he would be if the suit was to recover for damaged property.

"I would do the best I could, but I fear my prejudice would be against the plaintiff," replied Mr. Barnard. He was excused. Attorney Valle Reburn appeared.

THE MARKETS.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 13, 1925.

W. H. Williamson of the Stanton (Ill.) Milling Co. says there is great anxiety felt by the farmers of this section over the outcome of the wheat crop. There is no telling its present condition, nor can any idea be formed until the wheat is harvested.

W. J. Reichert, the Freiburg (Ill.) miller who last week reported the crop in good shape, was charged with the wheat in 1924. He said the wheat crop of 1924 in Argentina was 8,000,000 bu., of which 2,000,000 bu. were absorbed by the United States and 6,000,000 bu. were exported.

The National Stockman says that despite the severity of the weather the reports in regard to the condition of the stock are favorable. It is well protected by snow.

Telegrams from San Francisco report good rains and the situation is generally favorable for all grain crops and the fruit of California.

It is noted that Argentine wheat surplus will be 5,000,000 bu., or 10,000,000 bushels more than one year ago.

ON CHANGE.

WHEAT—For at least three-quarters of an hour after the opening the market stock at one price, which was 1-16 above yesterday's close. It was a quiet market, with nothing in the scanty trading or in the general conditions worthy of extended comment.

The first movement the market made was downward, and it sold off 1/16, then suddenly rallied 1/16, jerked up by the quick response in corn, though from this falling back, losing nearly all this advance and closing with sellers 1-16 below yesterday.

A little more movement was displayed by the market, though no advance quoted in the morning, though no advance quoted in the morning, though no advance quoted in the morning.

After call not an order filled for outside mills, as bids below market limits and the only demand came from shorts, and that was not of a description to sustain prices.

Spot Grades—Not a trade reported here and none made on call, where nothing was offered by sample, was not in the market and none of the other millers made any move.
